KIRBY HIRES A TUTOR

As much as Kirby loves school, sometimes things don't come easy. This school year looks like it will be one of those times. For the first time, Kirby's class is working with fractions. Kirby understands fractions, but the struggle is simplifying fractions to add and subtract. It's only a couple weeks into the school year and Kirby is already frustrated.

Mama knows Kirby is having trouble, but she didn't realize just how frustrating it was getting. Normally, good at school Kirby just wasn't getting it this time.

Mama said, "Hi Kirby. How was school today?"

As Kirby walked in throwing the backpack down, Mama scolded, "Kirby, I know you're struggling. There's no reason to take it out on me or your books."

"I'm sorry, Mama." Kirby said slouching down in the kitchen chair.

Mama sat down, stroking Kirby's head, as she asked, "What's wrong Kirby? Is it still fractions?"

"Yes Mama," Kirby replied crying. "I just don't get it Mama."

"Kirby, Papa and I talked about it this morning. We think we are going to hire a tutor to help you. We were going to talk to you about it over dinner tonight. What would you say to that?" Mama asked.

Kirby cried harder. "I've never needed a tutor, Mama. Why is this so hard?" Kirby asked with a sniffle.

Mama knew this would be hard for Kirby. "Kirby, I know you are used to being the smart kid, but it's ok. Everyone struggles with something. No one can know everything." Mama said comforting Kirby.

"Where are we going to find a tutor, Mama? I know I can't do it on my own, but that's a lot of money." Kirby said with a sigh.

Mama smiled patting Kirby's hand, "Papa and I will worry about that. You just worry about fractions. We know you can do it. You always do."

Kirby gave a Mama a small smile, "Mama, Thank you for believing in me. I promise I won't let you and Papa down."

Kirby went and grabbed some money. Walking back into the kitchen, Kirby laid it in front of Mama. "Here's my share for the tutoring Mama. It's like Papa always says paying with my hard earned money makes me smarter about how it's spent. It makes me work harder."

Mama smiled as she gave Kirby a hug. No one was more motivated than Kirby.

WHEN IS IT TIME TO GO TO THE DENTIST??

I could have avoided this by flossing?
